Strengthening Families through Extension Homemakers Clubs

The Arkansas Extension Homemakers Council (EHC) is a partner with the University of Arkansas Cooperative Extension Service (UACES) adult education program in agriculture and family and consumer sciences. The County Extension Service is one of the three branches of the University of Arkansas, Division of Agriculture, and a cooperative undertaking between the Land-Grant University and the U.S. Department of Agriculture. It is financed by federal, state, and county governments.

The mission of the Arkansas Extension Clubs is to empower individuals and families to improve their quality of living through continuing education, leadership development and community service. EHC Clubs are the county organization through which adult education is made available under the leadership of County Extension Agents - Family and Consumer Sciences (FCS).

Come, Join Us!

The St. Francis County Extension Homemaker's Clubs are seeking new members. Currently, there are four EHC Clubs in St. Francis County, Goodwin, Nelson, Pine Tree and Homemakers Exchange. These clubs meet monthly and share information on financial management, nutrition and fitness, parenting, family relations and other topics of interest to members and their community. EHC offers...

Fellowship

2006 Homemaker's Exchange EHC Christmas Party – Pictured are the club members and Family and Consumer Sciences agent after the gift exchange.

Crafts

Polymer Clay Workshop – Pictured are club members of Homemaker's Exchange EHC as they work diligently with polymer clay to create various objects, such as fan pulls, zipper pulls, necklaces, earrings, and blouse pins.

Helping Hands

Pine Tree Service Project – Pictured are club members with a sample of the fleece lap throws they have been making. The lap throws will be given to cancer patients at AR Children's Hospital.

If you are interested in becoming part of the Extension Homemakers Council, please contact the Extension Office at 261-1730 to find the club nearest you.

All EH clubs are open to all eligible persons without regard of race, color, national origin, religion, gender, age, disability, marital or veteran status, or any other legally protected status. Person with disabilities who require alternative means for communication of program information (large print, audiotapes, etc.) should notify the county Extension office as soon as possible prior to the activity.
