Greetings!

With all the crazy cold weather we’ve had lately, I hope everyone is staying warm and safe. Hopefully your pantries are well stocked so you don’t have to get out and keep your fingers crossed we all keep power! Don’t take any chances with travel, but if you must… be sure you are prepared. Tell someone where you are going. Be sure your car is stocked with blankets, extra water, and some food. Be sure your cell phone is charged. Also, keep your gas tank over half way full. These things can be very important if you slide off the road and have to wait for help to arrive.

I’ve had some interest in starting a StrongWomen class, so I’m going to try again to make a “go” of it. If you are interested in joining, please let me know! It will most likely meet in Berryville and the cost for the 12 week class is $12.

It’s not too early to start thinking about the EHC Spring Meeting in Ferndale. This year is will be on March 12th. It is usually a good time, so please consider coming if you’ve never been!

Sincerely,

If you have a submission for the newsletter, please email it to: llmartin@uaex.edu by the 25th of the month. You may also mail it or drop it by the office.

Giggle Minute

A distraught senior citizen phoned her doctor's office. "Is it true," she wanted to know, "that the medication you prescribed has to be taken for the rest of my life?"
"Yes, I'm afraid so," the doctor told her. There was a moment of silence before the senior lady replied, "I'm wondering then, just how serious is my condition, because this prescription is marked No Refills."

Financial Security: Estate Planning

An estate plan is a plan for the disposition of resources and property after death or during crisis.

A will is one component of an estate plan. Although necessary to direct the distribution of assets after death, almost 70 percent of U.S. adults do not have wills. Many people think they do not need a will because they do not have many assets, or they think that preparing a will costs too much. Dying without a will is called dying "intestate" and means that state and federal regulations will determine the distribution of assets. A carefully written legal will, however, provides for family and others in a manner consistent with a person's desires.

In addition, a variety of other important legal documents make up an estate plan and can protect assets and ensure that financial strategies and health care decisions are made prior to death. These documents include: General Durable Power of Attorney, Health Care Power of Attorney, and a Living Will. These documents are best completed before a crisis occurs.

For more information on any of these documents, please contact the office at 870-423-2958.

Home Heating Tips

With the COLD weather we've had lately, I'm already fretting over my electric and gas bill. Use these tips to stay warm and save money.

- Set thermostats no higher than 68 ºF when people are home.
- Lower the thermostat when you sleep or are not at home. Lowering the thermostat by 10 to 15 degrees for 8 hrs can help you save 5-15% annually on your heating bill. Energy.gov website states that if the setback period is 8 hrs or longer than savings of as much as 1% for every degree setback can be achieved.
- To ensure the heat gets to where it is supposed to go, use mastic or foil-faced tape to seal the seams and any cracks in air handling ducts.
- Have the heating system serviced each year to ensure efficient operation.
- Clean or replace furnace filters. Dirty filters reduce the efficiency of the furnace or heating system and waste valuable fuel. Clean or replace the filter(s) as directed by the manufacturer.
- On sunny days, open blinds or curtains, especially if windows face south. Close again at night.

- Never use the stove for additional heat. Fumes can result in dangerous carbon monoxide levels.
- Don't place furniture and curtains over or around heat registers or in front of cold air returns. These items will block airflow.
- Put on a sweater or other warm clothing. Layer clothing. Closed cuffs and tighter collars help to retain body heat.
Extension Homemakers in Carroll County

Extension Homemaker Clubs were organized to improve the quality of family and community life through education, community service, and leadership.

Extension Homemakers are assisted with organization and education by the county Home Economist, once known as Home Demonstration Agent and clubs were Home Demonstration Clubs. EHC club programs began in Carroll County in 1932, with a club at Dry Fork. Because of the depression, agents went from home to home teaching food preservation, sewing, and ways to “make do” with what the family had.

Mrs. B. F. Greer became the first council president. Mrs. Greer stated that “the outstanding problem is how to secure from the farm sufficient income to afford the family means for an adequate standard of living.”

Projects of Home Demonstration Clubs encouraged food preservation, using wall paper instead of newspaper for wall coverings, and installing screens for windows and doors. In 1932, the Home Demonstration Agent and HD Club President, Mrs. Fannie Russ, began a library with ninety circulating books through the 18 clubs and 310 members. During WWI, the Home Demonstration Clubs worked extremely hard in canning kitchens, victory gardens, conducting Red Cross training courses, and many women became wage earners.

The Home Demonstration Club Book from 1935 lists the following clubs and also reflects the many “communities” in the county: Oak Grove, Enon, Green Forest, Black Oak, Mulberry, Indian Creek, Busch, Walnut Grove, Bunch, Maple, Farmer, Lone Star, Berryville, Carrollton, Dean, Dry Fork, Yocum, Thornton, Cove, Grandview, West Concord, Cisco, Shady Grove, Douglas, Sunny Lane, Elk Ranch, Blue Eye, and Urbanette.

Eureka Springs Women’s Club and Berryville 20th Century Club were listed as cooperating town clubs.

Focus programs in 1935 were food preservation and preparation, nutrition, clothing, home management, home furnishings, home arts and crafts, home grounds, poultry, home marketing, home dairy, parent education, community recreation and services.

In 1965 the name of the clubs was changed to Extension Homemakers. In 2003, there were six clubs: Grandview, Domestic Engineers, Cove, Denver, Dry Fork, and Busy Bees. Focus Programs in 2003 are Physical Health and Exercise, and Caregiving.
All meetings and activities announced in this newsletter are open to all eligible persons without regard to race, color, national origin, religion, gender, age, disability, marital or veteran status, or any other legally protected status. Persons with disabilities who require alternative means for communication of program information (large print, audiotapes, etc.) should notify the county Extension office (or other appropriate office) as soon as possible prior to the activity.
