BERRYVILLE LIBRARY

June 2, 2014

Karen Reeve reported that “The plants are planted; the drip system is in place, now it’s mulch time. We will try to spread the mulch Saturday, June 7th at 8:30 at the library.”

Other work days will be scheduled as weather permits.

We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness.

HAPPY INDEPENDENCE!
Doug Miller, Linda Rogers, Brenda Webb and Karen Welch worked at Little Lake Eureka between rain drops today. We dug up existing lirope and placed it along the front for a nice border. We deadheaded poppies and also dug some up. We worked with the painters’ palate. We identified some of the plants and placed our new copper markers on some of them for identification. We have more work to do but it sure looks nice. We had some people stop by and we answered many questions.

Linda Rogers and I met at Little Lake Eureka. We continued with weeding and planting. We thinned out some beds of flowers. Our deer (metal) is growing his green vine and looks a lot better.
