- Winners in local events are selected to go to district events in Malvern, and state events at the University of Arkansas in Fayetteville. In addition, they can work towards big trips to exciting places like Washington, D.C.
- There are many activities in 4-H, too many to list here, but there is something for you. So join today!

What is a 4-H Club?

4-H clubs are organized Community-based or Project-based clubs. Clubs are continuing groups with elected officers, volunteer leaders and planned programs for nine to twelve months of the year.

4-H members may enroll in several different projects or in one project area. Boys and girls who join a 4-H club do not have to pay a membership fee nor are they required to wear a uniform.

Clubs may be organized on a county-wide, school, or community level. School clubs meet during school hours. Clubs that meet on school grounds before or after school hours are considered community clubs.

Who can be in 4-H?

In Arkansas there are three age levels in which youth can participate in the 4-H program. They are:

- Cloverbuds - 5 - 8
- Juniors - 9 - 13
- Seniors - 14 - 19

Goal of 4-H

The goal of 4-H is to meet the basic needs of youth and help them acquire essential life skills through planned "learn by doing" experiences. A necessary outcome of the youth development goal is the development of volunteers as individuals and leaders in the 4-H program.

A 4-H member prepares her goat for the County Fair. The livestock project is only one of many projects in which 4-Her's "learn by doing". Other project areas include technology, food science, entomology, textiles, and many others.
