MEDICARE FRAUD ALERT

Caller Offers Free Glucose Monitor!

How the scam works:

The caller, usually having a foreign accent, asks if there is a diabetic in the home. The caller may even say they are with Medicare or give a fictitious name of a diabetic supply company. When the person who answered the phone replies "yes", they offer to send a free glucose talking monitor (or something along those lines) for a Medicare number. Once the Medicare number is given the victim may or may not receive the free monitor — and may even receive a lot more than that! The caller may continually send unwanted diabetic supplies that are delivered far too often, and the unused supply builds up in a garage or a corner of the house! They are probably using your Medicare number to bill Medicare for these supplies, even if they don’t deliver them. Reminder: Never give out your Medicare number over the phone to an unsolicited caller!

Best response?

If you fall victim to this scam and give out your Medicare/Social Security Number, please follow this advice:

- REFUSE THE PACKAGE WHEN IT ARRIVES IN THE MAIL — tell the mailman to take it back. If the package is dropped off, take it to the post office and return it and get a return receipt for your records.
- MONITOR YOUR MEDICARE SUMMARY NOTICE (MSN) for charges for items you did not order or receive;
- REPORT CHARGES on your MSN for items you did not order or receive to the Arkansas SMP at 1-866-726-2916.
